Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

The request for reconsideration filed March 1, 2006 is acknowledged and entered.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in the prior Office action.

Claim Rejections

Claim 1 remains rejected under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by the Netherlands Plant Breeder's Right (PBR) application number CHR2752 published on May 16, 1996, more than one year prior to the effective filing date of this instant plant application in view of Applicant's admission that the instant cultivar was first sold on December 1998 (response dated December 10, 2002, page 3), and in light of the Plant Varieties Journal Quarter One 2004, Vol. 17, No. 1, page 303 which indicates the instant cultivar was first sold in the Netherlands on January 15, 1999, and in light of The New Royal Horticultural Society Dictionary of Gardening 1992 vol. 1 describing asexual reproduction of chrysanthemum plants (pages 614-618).

Claim 1 remains rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the European Plant Breeder's Right (PBR) application number 19970499 published on June 15, 1997 and the denomination published on August 17, 1998, more than one year prior to the effective filing date of this instant plant application in view of Applicant's admission that the instant cultivar was first sold on December 1998 (response dated December 10, 2002, page 3), and in light of the Plant Varieties Journal Quarter One 2004, Vol. 17, No. 1, page 303 which indicates the instant cultivar was first sold in the Netherlands on January 15, 1999, and in light of The New Royal Horticultural Society Dictionary of Gardening 1992 vol. 1 that describe the asexual reproduction of chrysanthemum (pages 614-618).

Art Unit: 1661

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the Polish Plant Breeder's Right (PBR) application number OO00536 published on March 31, 1999, more than one year prior to the effective filing date of this instant plant application in view of Applicant's admission that the instant cultivar was first sold on December 1998 (response dated December 10, 2002, page 3), and in light of the Plant Varieties Journal Quarter One 2004, Vol. 17, No. 1, page 303 which indicates the instant cultivar was first sold in the Netherlands on January 15, 1999, and in light of The New Royal Horticultural Society Dictionary of Gardening 1992 vol. 1 that describe the asexual reproduction of chrysanthemum (pages 614-618).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed March 1, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the information regarding the instant cultivar that is identified by the breeders' reference name is not available to third parties or assignee, and that information is not available to the public.

This argument has not been found persuasive because regardless of whether this may or may not have occurred, the plant was in the public's possession more than one year prior to the U.S. filing date. The foreign sale was not an obscure, solitary occurrence that would go unnoticed by those skilled in the art. Since, the instant plant was in the public domain and one of ordinary skill in the art could have obtained the plant and asexually reproduce it by means well known in the art as for example the information found in The New Royal Horticultural Society Dictionary of Gardening describing ways of asexually reproducing chrysanthemum plants, then the publication describing the plant would enabled the disclosure. The publication served as notice to the public that the plant existed. Moreover, the Court in In re Elsner, 72

USPQ2d 1038 (CA FC 2004) states that a printed publication coupled with a foreign sale of that plant would constitute a bar under §102(b) (p. 1040).

For the reasons outlined above and in the previous Office action, the rejection is deemed proper and is maintained.

Conclusion

No claim is allowed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
